LARGE MEETING HELD AT JERMYN

PRESIDED OVER BY CHAIRMAN JOHN PRITCHARD.

Addresses Delivered by Hon. Jereminh Snyder, of Lehigh; Hon. John F. Reynolds, of Carbondale; Attorney George D. Taylor and Layton M. Schoch, of This City. Mr. Snyder Maintained That National Issues Are Prominent in This Campaign and Shoul. Not Be Forgotten.

Enterprise hall in Jermyn was filled with a large audience last night to hear the issues of the campaign treated by Hon, Jeremiah Snyder, of Lehich; Hon, John F. Reynolds, of Carbon Schoch, of this city.

Mr. Schoch was attired in the Karki uniform that he wore in Porto Rice and aroused much enthusiasm. John Pritch-

Hon, John F. Reynolds was the first tome for indigent members somewhere sensions in the Republican party. They are after reform and are desirous of Store corporation, rule to dissolve atreforming everybody but themselves. The speaker of the evening was Hon,

Jere Snyder, of Lehigh, He advocated the return of all the present members of congress to uphold President McKinley's war policy. He dwelt upon the return of industrial prosperity under McKinley and the opening of glass | Maplewood mills on the foundation stones of the ruins left by Democracy. Under Har-rison the country reached the floodcame when Cleveland succeeded to the presidency; and the grateful return again to the prosperous condition came with McKinley.

Mr. Snyder held that national issues are paramount in this campaign. He said the best way to uphold the administration is to elect Stone governor and the rest of the state ticket. He treated Dr. Swallow's candidacy as a misguided movement by a man who believes he is right.

Layton M. Schoch spoke on the state ssues and comparative state records of both parties. The Republican party had a glorious war record, he said, not to speak of its commercial and industrial fostering

DEATH OF JOHN SHERILAN. Verdict Rendered by the Coroner's Jury Last Night.

Further testimony was heard last light by the coroner's jury investigating the death of John Sheridan, the boy who met with fatal injuries by breaker on Oct. 14. None of the wit- as a juror more than once in a year. nesses gave any additional particulars. It is also claimed that contrary to Attorney John R. Edwards was pres- law, the jurces on three different ocent in the interest of John Sheridan, the boy's father. Mine Inspector Prytherch was also present.

Coroner Longstreet called Sheridan to the stand and he testified that Mr. Saturday afternoon - Tompkinsville, Snyder, the breaker boss, said to him Speakers, Major Everett Warren, E. E. the evening of the 14th: "Mr. Sheri-"Mr. Sherithe evening of the 14th: dan, don't blame me for putting him outside to clean these windows. It was my orders to do so."

John Barrett, Michael Davis Michael Murray were called as witnesses. They happened to be standing also taken to the statement of the in the doorway of Barrett's livery stable and saw Sheridan tumbling down the roof, but further than that they knew nothing relevant to the Patrick Monaghan, Patrick Kirkwood, Lawrence Barrett and Harry Cook were called to testify, but few preliminary questions were sufficient to bring out the fact that they had no evidence to give. The jury found the following verdict:

We find that Jehn Sheridan came to his leath on the afternoon of Oct. 14, 1898, by falling from the roof of the Pine Brook breaker of the Lackawanna Iron and Coal ompany, while engaged in the act of leaning windows

The said John Sheridan having slipped in some unaccountable manner while working on the outside of the window. which from the evidence at hand appears to be due to the slippery condition of the roof. We find further that the company provided poles for the cleaning of the windows which appear to make it the necessary for those engaged in such work to go outside on the roof.

JUROR SERVED TWICE.

Application for New Trial Made in Kenny Murder Case-Number of Irregularities Alleged by Defendant's Attorneys.

Application for a new trial in the Kenny murder case was made yesterday by the convicted man's counsel, Attorneys John J. Murphy, J. J. Manning and M. F. Conry.

Kenny, it will be remembered was onvicted last Saturday of manslaughter for killing Martin Healey, in Archbald, in April last. The jury stood seven for acquittal, two for manslaughter, one for second degree and one for first degree on the first ballot and remained this way from Thursday until Saturday, when after being twice told they would have to stay together until they agreed they compromised on a verdict of manslaughter.

One of the reasons assigned for a new trial is that a talesman selected as one of the jurors in the case, William H. Daniels, also served as a talesman the preceding week, all of which it is contended is contrary to falling from the roof of the Pine Brook | the act of 1834, against a man serving | was largely in excess of the actual casions were permitted to separate, three or four at one time being allowed to leave the court room in the custody of a tipstoff while the others remained in the box.

Among the other reasons assigned is one to the effect that Judge Gunster's language was too strong in his instructions regarding the inability of the court to release the jury before it had agreed; that it tended to coerce the compromise. Exception is Assistant District Attorney Thomas in his closing address that Kenny lay in wait for Healey with a knife, which was unwarranted by the evidence it is alleged, and calculated to affect the minds of the jury.

The jury, it is also held, disobeyed the injunction contained in the fifth proposition of law, suggested by the defense and affirmed by court, that if any juror had a reasonable doubt as to the guilt of the defendant he should not forsake his opinion out of deference to the opinion of the other jurors. The general allegation is also made that the verdict was contrary to the law, the evidence, the charge of the court and propositions of the defense affirmed by the court.

Judge Love, it is expected, will come up some day next week to hear the arguments.

DIVORCE DECREE REFUSED. Remarkable Occurrence Indeed in Lackawanna County. Judeg Archbald yesterday refused a decree in divorce to Albert L. Wallace who sought separation from his wife, Jennie Crestler Wallace, on the ground of cruel and barbarous treatment.

The evidence in the case showed that she treated him disdainfully during the three months they lived together and that one time she committed the heinous crime of refusing to sew buttons on his trousers. This was not sufficient, Judge Archbald held, to establish the charge of cruel and barbarous treatment.

A decree in divorce was granted in the ese of Annie E. Slack against Abram Stack.

TESIMONY IN KELLY IMPEACHMENT CASE voked at any time.

PROSECUTION TRIED TO SHOW HE MULTIPLIED CASES.

In the Case of Ben Arnovitz Against A. 735, under a statute allowing the as-Yalsko Figular it Appeared That signment of future earnings. There Was an Excessive Charge for Administering Oaths and That the Alderman Permitted the Case to Be Settled-Will Try and Compel Kelly to Produce Records of His Court.

The efforts of the prosecution in the Kelly impeachment proceedings, yesterday, were bent mainly on the production of evidence tending to show that Alderman Kelly was guilty of multiplying cases and charging illegal fees.

An Italian peanut vender named Patrick Cavino, alias Quinn, appeared on the first transcript considered, as defendant in a case of larceny prosecuted by an Arab peddler named O'Brien. The transcript George charged for nine caths, two subpoenas and $1.46 for mileage at the rate of ten cents a mile. Cavino went on the stand and testified that only three witnesses were sworn in the case, that he took out no subpoenas whatever and that the fourteen miles travel charged for by the constable was exorbitant even if the subpoenas were o'clock. Rev. J. J. B. Feeley was the served, as he and his witnesses all live in the immediate neighborhood of the alderman's office.

CAVINO'S TESTIMONY.

The next transcript taken up was one in which Cavino is made to appear as prosecuting his father-in-law Nicola Wider, for the larceny of fur niture. Cavino swore he never brought such a case in Alderman Kelly's office. He had an assault and battery case there against his father-in-law but it was settled in the presence of the alderman. Tony Shindella, who is named on the transcript as bondsman for Wider, swore he never went bail for anybody, and further couldn't, because he owns no property.

In the case of Een Arnovitz against Yalske Figular, in which the theft of a shirt is charged, evidence was adduced to show that the number of oaths alleged on the transcript to have been administered by the alderman number of witnesses sworn. It was further alleged in this case that the composed of main and private smok-alderman permitted the parties to effurther alleged in this case that the fect a settlement, which would be compounding a felony. Arnovitz, however, on the advice of his counsel, George D. Taylor, refused to say whether or not the case was settled as he would by answering in the affirmative incriminate himself. Jacob Elme, the bondsman for Figular, admitted that he owned no real estate.

JOHNSON ON THE STAND. Ben Johnson, a colored cabman, was called to throw some light on the transcript on which he appears as prosecutor of a larceny case against John Heiner. It was claimed by the alderman's accusers that the case was proven to be a civil one, yet he sent it in to the grand jury. Mr. Johnson, however, gave testimony that tended to exonerate the alderman. An effort was also made to show that more witnesses were charged for than were Adjournment was made until next Tuesday. The question as to whether or not the defendant can be compelled to produce the papers and records of his office will be argued before Judge Archbald in the meantime.

LEGAL MATTERS.

An action by a wife against persons who have wrongfully induced her husband to leave her is held in Garnard versus Gernard (Pa.) 40 L. R.
